

Indago Energy Limited

Quality Policy Statement

HCDI Holdings and its 100% owned subsidiary HCD Blending LLC, the manufacturer of HCD products based in Arizona USA, is committed to providing our customers with quality products that shall be delivered defect free, and on time.

We intend to achieve this via our quality management systems by:

- Determining outputs, processes and systems that are continually improved to exceed our customer expectations.
- Development of our personnel, customers and contractors and suppliers through training and clear communication.
- Continually improving our products
- Maintaining compliance with regulators and any applicable standards and codes

We shall remain committed to this quality policy and ensure this is communicated clearly throughout all levels within the organisation and to contractors and suppliers

We shall review our quality management periodically based on this policy statement.